

Table of contents

List of contributors	vii
1. Introduction Giovanni Bennardo	1-8
Section One: 'Language and space'
2. Spatial reference in Alune Margaret Florey and Barbara F. Kelly	11-46
3. Hiding behind trees on Ambae: spatial reference in an Oceanic language of Vanuatu Catriona Hyslop	47-76
4. Inside and outside Niuean space Wolfgang B. Sperlich	77-90
5. The case markings of Hawaiian locative nouns and place names Kenneth W. Cook	91-104
Section Two: 'Space in mind'
6. Absolute spatial reference and the grammaticalisation of perceptually salient phenomena Bill Palmer	107-157
7. Mental images of the familiar: cultural strategies of spatial representations in Tonga Giovanni Bennardo	159-177
8. On the relevance of point fields for spatiality in Oceania F. K. Lehman (F.K.L. Chit Hlaing) and David J. Herdrich	179-197
Section Three: 'Space and culture'
9. Space and its role in social stratification in Pohnpei, Micronesia Elizabeth Keating	201-213

10. Space-time coordinates of subjectivity in Fiji
Christina Toren 215-231
11. The house as a social metaphor: architecture, space, and language in Samoan culture
Anne E. Guernsey Allen 233-246

Conclusion

12. Spatial representations of island worlds
Janet D. Keller 249-260